

Marching The Drum Set

Playing a march on the drum set can be a great solo-break idea to grab attention. Steve Gadd immortalized the marching drum set with his solo titled "Crazy Army." The following march starts with the basics then progresses by adding rolls, flams and hi hat foot. Play to your ability level and have fun!

MARCHING THE DRUM SET 1

MARCHING THE DRUM SET 2 (add rolls)

Marching The Drum Set (cont.)

MARCHING THE DRUM SET 3 (add flams)

Musical notation for Marching The Drum Set 3 (add flams). The piece is in 4/4 time and consists of four staves. The notation includes various drum parts with accents and flams. The first staff shows a snare drum pattern with accents and flams. The second staff shows a snare drum pattern with accents and flams. The third staff shows a snare drum pattern with accents and flams. The fourth staff shows a snare drum pattern with accents and flams.

MARCHING THE DRUM SET 4 (add hi hat)

Musical notation for Marching The Drum Set 4 (add hi hat). The piece is in 4/4 time and consists of four staves. The notation includes various drum parts with accents and hi hats. The first staff shows a snare drum pattern with accents and hi hats. The second staff shows a snare drum pattern with accents and hi hats. The third staff shows a snare drum pattern with accents and hi hats. The fourth staff shows a snare drum pattern with accents and hi hats.